(1) The M.C.'s idea is to refer the matter to a select committee & if possible to proceed to legislate on the lines recently adopted in Madras. In view of the entirely different conditions prevailing here, and of the fact that there is a department already entrusted with this enquiry namely, I am not in favour of accepting the M.C.'s suggestion, particularly in view of the opposition the recent Madras legislation is encountering. The M.C. may make his own suggestions in the matter, consulting the D.C. if he so wishes.

CONFIDENTIAL D.O.

Office of the Muzrai Commissioner in Mysore,

Dated, Bangalore, the 20th April 1923.

Mug 183-22-3

Dear Sir,

Reminder

With reference to your D.O. letter No.2612/M.F.183-22 dated 4th April 1923, regarding the administration of Muzrai Funds, I write to state as follows:--

2. The balances of individual institutions have not yet been determined by the Special Duty officer. The information as to the amount of uninvested cash balances is necessary before the possibility of its further investment after allowing for the necessary fluid reserves can be investigated. The investment of surpluses is governed by Section 18 of the Muzrai Regulation which enumerates the kinds of eligible securities in which monies can be invested. Regarding the administration of invested and uninvested funds, definite instructions have been given in the handbooks relating to the three classes of major, minor and village institutions. The manuals in respect of the last two classes have been approved by Government in orders Nos.3067-80/Muz.421-17-9 dated 3rd April 1919 and 2407-20/Muz.136-17-12 dated 18th February 1919, respectively. The handbook of Major institutions is pending final revision in this office and for this, the amendment of the Muzrai Regulation is awaited to see what statutory powers will be given to the Muzrai Commissioner.

It is not quite clear what the wishes of the people are regarding improvements in Muzrai administration, that is, whether the question is one of improving details of administration only, the present policy remaining unchanged, or otherwise.

If it is considered desirable to re-examine the question in all its aspects, and in the light of recent action in Madras and elsewhere, I beg to submit that as the matter is one of great complexity and delicacy, a small Representative Committee of officials officials and non-officials might be appointed with power to examine witnesses and to report on the question after due - deliberation.

Yours sincerely,

K Chaudy
